AHCA's HIPAA Privacy Rule: A Nursing Facility Manual

HIPAA (Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act) is bringing significant changes to the management of health information and how confidential health information is handled. The regulations outlined in HIPAA pertain to all healthcare providers who transmit health information electronically and compliance of the HIPAA Privacy Rule by all covered entities is required by April 14, 2003. Will your facility be prepared?

To help nursing facilities prepare, AHCA presents its newly released HIPAA Privacy Rule: A Nursing Facility Manual. This manual provides nursing facilities with a practical guide to achieving compliance with the HIPAA Privacy Rule. The manual addresses the operational issues of a nursing facility relative to its residents and also includes implementation guidelines and valuable policies and procedures that can be modified to fit the individual needs of your facility.
